

A black telephone handset is shown in a close-up, resting on a dark, textured surface. The handset is positioned diagonally, with the receiver at the top right and the handle extending towards the bottom left. The background is dark and out of focus, showing some circular patterns. The word "tunes" is overlaid on the handset in a white, sans-serif font, with the letter "e" highlighted in a bright green color and enclosed in a speech bubble shape. A registered trademark symbol (®) is located to the upper right of the "s".

After the initial good response from the Gujarat state, the opportunist entrepreneurs entered two more state Maharashtra and Karnataka to cater the ever growing demand of architectural hardware fittings.

By 2012, the first had almost covered 3 Pan India as far as trading was concerned. The promoters thought of introducing their own brand "TUNES" and capitalize on the ever growing and demanding architectural hardware fitting industry.

MARKET REACH

PROMPT DELIVERY

The company established a new manufacturing and warehouse facility at Vadodara with a capacity of 40,00 square feet to optimize storage and production capacity. An entire blue print was set and according to the planning racking system with a storage capacity of more than 100 tons was constructed so that the company can meet the ever growing demand from their super stockists, distributors and dealer network.

The company believes in timely fulfilment of orders and as a result initiated a totally new concept i.e. if the order is received before 02:00 pm the entire order will be despatched the same working day or at the most within 24 hours from the receipt of the order.

Maintaining such a wide range of diverse collection of cabinet handles, mortise handles, main door handles, knobs and other accessories, sliding door handles, kitchen cabinet handles, mortise locks and europrofile cylinders with different finishes and different sizes was not an easy task. To overcome this challenge the promoters really worked hard with the entire Tunes team. The company has material in ready stock with all models, sizes and finishes so that they can cater to the order at the fastest.
